FESTIVAL OF ARTS

Welcome from

MICHELLE KING

Head of Creative Industries

The Creative Industries departments at the Sandwell Family of Colleges are proud to present our annual Festival of Arts 2024! The Festival continues to grow each year, as we showcase student work from Sandwell College and Cadbury Sixth Form College, across all levels and pathways at multiple venues.

This year, Level 2 Performing Arts students open the Festival with their showcase 'Survivors' on Tuesday 4th June. Over the following 4 weeks, an array of live entertainment, screenings and exhibitions will be held in locations around Birmingham and the Black Country, including at our iconic Spon Lane campus in West Bromwich, 'The Arts Cafe' at Central St Michael's campus in New Square, and the Lauren Crace Theatre at Cadbury College, which will be hosting its first full-scale musical, 'Little Shop of Horrors'. Bringing the Festival to a close, Music students across campuses join forces once again to perform and celebrate their achievements at the 'Denovo Awards' event at B:Music's Symphony Hall venue.

My personal thanks go to all of the staff within the Visual Arts and Performing Arts, Music and Media curriculum teams, who continue to share their dedication and passion with our students every year. Thanks also to our technical and wider support teams across the Sandwell Family of Colleges, who have contributed to co-ordinating the Festival.

Further thanks go to the key industry partners we have worked with across the year, and my final thanks go to our wonderful students - your hard work, persistence, resilience, enthusiasm and creativity makes this event possible!
